Keeping Up - -

With Uplanders

By V. V. P.

PERPETUAL MOTION

We have known of self-winding watches for many years but we had frowned more or less on them. Of all things, we could wind our little watch. It's all right to have as many as possible push-button items at home and automatic machines in the shop but never would it be necessary to get so modern as to have a watch we wouldn't have to wind!

And how suddenly one's ideas can change now we have one of those self-winders, thanks to Santa Claus. It took about two weeks to get over the life-long habit of trying to wind it. Now it is a real joy, one of our greatest personal possessions.

All we have to do now is to keep a little life in our left wrist and the timepiece runs on and one. . . .just like perpetual motion.

JIM IS IN CHURCH

This is to report that Jim Colgan was in church Sunday.

It is possible he goes other times but for the public record he was among the congregation in St. Mark's Episcopal church Sunday. Father Jos. A. Erickson Jr., the rector, was waiting to see him and all members of the Upland Lions club were also concerned about his presence.

For several years, Father "Joe has been trying to get his fellow Lion in his services. The opportunity came at last week's club meeting to make a deal. It cost the good, persevering rector $4, which went into the club's welfare fund.

Jim, a very energetic and versatile club member, happened to be in the roll of "Tailtwister", last week and as such let no one escape without paying a fine. Interested in helping out the club funds and also concerned about Jim's personal welfare, Father "Joe" offered the deal of paying $4 on condition that Jim would be in his church Sunday.

Jim was.

BY JOEL BAUGH

FIRST ANNIVERSARY

Today's column marks the first anniversary of the publication of Foothill Footnotes, and it is with gratification that we acknowledge the acceptance the column has won during the past year. As in the first year, we will in the future delve into many topics, present personal viewpoints on many things, attempt to stimulate thought on many subjects and heap praise as well as criticism on things and people. We hope you agree with us 50 per cent of the time — that's par for a columnist's course.

SCHOOLS VINDICATED

For those hardy souls who insist that our educational systems are not teaching our students anything, may we point with pride to two stories in this issue of The News which present substantial evidence that both Upland Elementary School district and Upland High school of the Chaffey district are doing a fine job of teaching our boys and girls. The Iowa test shows the high school rapidly rising in stature for educational accomplishment, and tests given in the elementary schools show local students several months ahead of their nationwide contemporaries in learning reading, arithmetic and language.

PANIC IN THE STREETS

Perhaps we're jumping to conclusions or perhaps we haven't the correct perspective, but what we considered a strange event occurred before our startled eyes Wednesday morning. As we drove into the Chaffey parking lot via the Fourth St. "one-way" entrance drive, we met, coming toward us, a driver-training car with a student driver at the wheel.

When we meet up with an oncoming car on a one-way

25 Newcomers 1st Volunteers For Mothers' March On Polio

MRS. KENNETH M. PERRY
. . . chanrman for Mother's March on Polio

Twenty-five members of Upland Welcome Wagon Newcomers club have volunteered as "marching mothers" in the annual march against polio which will highlight the March of Dimes campaign here Tuesday evening, Jan. 28, from 7 to 9 p.m.

Mrs. Kenneth M. Perry, club president and chairman of the Mother's March, this week appealed for women throughout the city to volunteer to canvass their residential block or area during the one-evening event.

As in past yars, residents will be asked to leave their porch lights on to indicate to the marching mother that they have a March of Dimes contribution for her. Mrs. Perry emphasizes that all contributions are important, regardless of amount, and urges cooperation of all Uplanders.

Red Buttons stars in a March of Dimes movie short now appearing with the regular features at the Grove theatre. The feature was first presented Monday night and will continue through Friday night's movie program.

Mothers who are willing to march on polio in the Jan. 28 event are requested to contact Mrs. Perry, 991 W. Arrow Hwy or by telephone, YUkon 2-7254.

Mrs. Perry is making a special appeal to members of Upland Woman's club, who served as marching mothers in the 1957 March of Dimes fund campaign, to volunteer their services again.

All areas of the city will be assigned the volunteer mothers, and those already having volunteered their services are the following newcomers:

Mmes. James Dooman, Robt. Jones, Richard McLaughlin, Glen Humphrey, Donald Gross, Dave Johnson, L. W. Stout, Robt. Pollock, Jay D. Heath, Chas. Hite, C. D. Foster, C. R. Holst, K. Kinney, Geo. Polio Vaccine For Schools Only

County Health Dept. Foresees No Free Vaccine For Adults

In answer to inquiries from our readers, The Upland News this week interviewed by telephone Dr. Merle Cosand, county health officer, regarding plans for future polio vaccine immunization programs in the Upland area and the availability of the Salk vaccine.

Dr. Cosand reported that future programs of immunization in this area will be in the elementary and high schools, with no provisions being made for free immunization of adults. He recommended that adults not yet immunized with the series of three shots of polio vaccine do so immediately through their private physician.

Schedule In Schools

"We are just scratching to get enough vaccine to cover our schools," Dr. Cosand said. He explained the schedule of polio immunizations in the schools has been carried out during Nov., Dec. and Jan. and will continue into February.

This week immunization programs were conducted in both the Upland High school and Upland Elementary school.

As of this month the program is restricted to children of school age, Dr. Cosand reported.

Child Health Clinics

At the lower age levels, he said immunization for families largely cared for by the County hospital are taken care of in child health clinics.

Asked as to recent reports that large quanitities of vaccine have had to be destroyed, he said that if this were so it was probably vaccine that was being distributed through private channels to physicians.

Block Zoned For Multiples

First Ave., from Seventh St. north to Olive St., is in the process of being rezoned R-3 multiple dwelling, a change from the present R-1-C single family, 7500 square feet zoning.

Upland city council on Jan. 2 granted the zone change request submitted by H. L. Engle on the 24 lots in the city block ,following a public hearing on the application.

Only protest heard was a letter forwarded by the planning commission and written by Mr. and Mrs. Thos. H. Jackson, 370 S. Euclid Ave., who contended the R-3 zoning would affect the valuation of adjacent property on Euclid Ave. An ordinance amendment incorporating this zone change is being prepared.

Upland Fifth For New Building County-Wide

Upland ranked fifth among cities in the county on the basis of the volume of new construction during 1957.

Upland's new building permit total of $6,372,518 was just behind Redlands. Other cities ahead of Upland were San Bernardino, Ontario and Rialto.

Robt. Jones, in the construction business, and Rellis Petty, member of the staff of Upland city building dept., are new members of Upland-Foothill Toastmasters club.

Reading, Arithmetic, Language

Elementary Students Above National Norm In Subjects

Students of Upland Elementary school district are several months ahead of the national norm in the learning of reading, arithmetic and language, the district board of trustees learned Tuesday night at the regular board session.

Donald L. Shattuck, district psychiatrist and director of guidance, displayed a chart for the trustees which indicated how far advanced each of the grades three, four, five, six and eight were in the three subjects, as determined by the 1957 edition of the California Achievement test.

Measures Achievement

Harold W. Cook, district superintendent, said the test was given at the close of the first month of school to measure and evaluate pupil achievement in the three subject matter areas. This test is published by the California Test Bureau of Los Angeles and editors of the test are Tiegs and Clark.

for each grade level group tested.

The average achievement was above the norm for the particular grade level for the school month when the test was given. The average achievement of the grade levels tested ranged from one month to five months above the national norm.

Classroom teachers administered and scored the test, with Mr. Shattuck in charge of tabulating and summarizing test results on a district-wide basis.

For the third grade, the Upland students were five months advanced in reading over the national norm, four months ahead in arithmetic learning and five months ahead in language achievement. In grade four, the Upland students were above the national norm by six months in reading, one month in arithmetic and one month in language.

Upland fifth graders were seven months ahead in reading, four months advanced in arithmetic and six months above the language norm. Sixth graders were six months above the reading norm, two months ahead in arithmetic learning, and three months above the language norm. Eighth graders here were eight months advanced over the national norm in reading, seven months ahead in arithmetic achievement, and at the exact national norm in language. The latter was the only subject and class level where the Upland students were not above the national norm, but for the three subjects, the eighth graders still averaged a five month lead over the national norm.

The trustees Tuesday night also heard a reading demonstration by 20 first graders in the class of Miss Gladys Claypool, and viewed an elaborate science display in the Upland Elementary school offices, the projects of the school grade levels. The exhibit varied from study of nature through satellites.

Under the business-like chairmnship of Mrs. Lovon C. Phillips, Wilson Ave., members of the San Bernardino County Republican Central committee, Monday night, in San Bernardino, went into action paving the way for a grass roots campaign in the coming June election.

Surprise guest at the meeting was Alonzo Bell, Los Angeles, chairman of the sfate central committee.

Mr. Bell emphasized that new means of raising funds must be found if the district is to provide ample financial support for its candidates. He suggested that it should be possible to channel contributions made outside the county by corporations in the county, to a united fund in this district.

Newly elected State Sen. Raymond H. Gregory told of the urgency of the coming fight and declared the Republican voting potential must be utilized to the fullest.

"If the Republican party is to continue to succeed in San Bernardino county, we must get back to "grass roots" political campaigning", he said.

Sale of property in the Foothill Knolls shopping center to the McDaniel food market chain for construction of a new Upland market is now in escrow and plans for the market building are being prepared. Medco Corp. is also preparing plans for a shopping arcade to adjoin the big market.

Announcement is also being made of Medco's intention to build several more spacious and higher priced homes in the Lone Hill Country club estates area, immediately east of Foothill Knolls and bordering Red Hill Country club fairways. DECISION DUE ON REZONING 1,220 ACRES

Rezoning of 1,220 acres of land northeast of Banyan Ave. and Amethyst St. in the foothills north of Alta Loma is set for decision by members of the San Bernardino County planning commission today.

Cherbak Bros., owners of the land, are applicants, for the zone change. The present zone is for five-acre agricultural developments. The change south is for single family units.

Opposition to the change comes from owners of poultry projects in the area. Members of the commission chose to make an on-the-spot inspection before giving their decision.

Red Cross Moving To 1st Ave.; C of C Seeks City Space

Moving at an early date to 409 N. First Ave., will be Upland chapter of the American Red Cross. Date for occupying the larger building will be determined soon and the busy headquarters of the organization will be moved from its present location at 433 N. Second Ave.

Mrs. Eleanor Taylor, executive secretary, said the chapter board would meet Monday to make final plans for occupying the structure a, former residence. Plans will also be discussed to maintain an expanded program in serving the community.

The late M. L. Gallagher occupied the residence, which was sold to Dr. Jos. H. Scanlon, who has leased it to the Red Cross chapter.

Present facilities of the Red Cross are owned by the City of Upland.

A suggestion will be made at tonight's Upland city council meeting that the Upland chamber of commerce be permitted to use the rooms being vacated by the Red Cross. President Calvin G. Shores said the present chamber facilities at 130 E. Ninth St. are not suitable. He also pointed out yesterday that location of the chamber of commerce adjacent to the city hall would eable the civic organization to give more service to the municipality and to local residents.

Appeals R-3 Zone Denial

D. M. Arrasmith, whose request for R-3 multiple dwelling zoning for the two acres at the northwest corner of 13th St. and Fifth Ave. was denied last Nov. 29 by the planning commission, will tonight appeal to the city council for a reversal of this decision.

Delbert Hensley will represent Mr. Arrasmith in the appeal.

The planners denied the request on the motion of Jack Smith based on the statement that "a good quality R-3 development could not be assured at the present time because of the stable and other objectional features of the area". Mr. Smith at that time suggested that if the stable were moved from the area, the Commission would look with more favor upon such a

Famed Quartet In Series

Featured on the third program of this season's Ontario-Upland Community Concert Assn. will be the Paganini Quartet, presented in the Gardiner W. Spring auditorium, tonight, 8:15 o'clock.

The group, first organized in 1946, gave a series of brilliant concerts in the Library of Congress, Washington and later had a New York debut.

The men of the group, all superb artists in their own right, preserve the priceless tradition of chamber music which requires for its ideal performance the blending of the finest instruments with the skill of fine players.

Among music's noblest artifacts must be counted the fabulous Stradivari of the quartet which were once the cherished possessions of Paganini, the great violinist of the romantic era, reassembled after a century of dispersal following the Master's death.

The Paganini Quartet is composed of Henri Temianka, first violin; Chas. Libove, second violin, Chas. Foidart, viola; and Lucien Laporte, cello.

Repertoire of this distinguished Quartet includes a vast variety of some of the world's greatest compositions. The classic portion includes Mozart, Schubert, Brahms, Haydn and Beethoven. However, the men of the Paganini Quartet are not inclined to devote themselves entirely to the major classics. They vary their programs with some of

Parents, Though Different, Work Best As Team

'Mothers and Fathers Are Different," the theme of the recent meeting of Ontario-Upland branch, American Assn. of University Women, in Merton E. Hill auditorium, proved most interesting when presented by Drs. Bertram Forer and Lucille Forer, a husband and wife team of psychologists.

The theory presented was that though mothers and fathers play different roles in helping a child attain maturity, it is important for them to work together as a team.

It was explained that the child basically needs three things during his development, in order to become a mature adult. These needs are, attention to physical needs, development of a basic confidence in the world and his relationship to it and the acquiring of a system of skills and techniques.

Mothers should help in gratifying these needs by making the small child as comfortable as possible in order to prevent frustrations. She should also let the child help himself, when ready, by giving him freedom to develop his own initiative. A child bases his relationships with other people on those he has with his mother, it was stated.

The father should take responsibility for the child's successful development. As he is so often absent while working he is often a fantasy to the child during early years, but he is also a source of skills in the mastery of the more difficult forces of nature. The father's attitude toward the outside world is important in shaping the attitudes of his children.

Mrs. Marjorie Bundgard, president, welcomed members and guests and presided.

and progress of the industry. With this goal in mind the Assn. is establishing courses in Electronic Data processing in local colleges.

Bob Van Ness of Ontario president of the chapter, will conduct a management class in "Machine Accounting Systems" at Chaffey college, beginning Feb. 4. A total of 15 courses, technical and general machine operations, are planned. "A golden opportunity for the industry in this area," summarizes Mr. Van Ness.

Twenty-one members of the Shakespeare club met Friday in the home of Mrs. F. W. Riddington, 113 E. Harvard Pl., Ontario, when the program presented by Mrs. Richard Du Vall was on, "Villette," by Charlotte Bronte.

Mrs. DuVall stated that this book is largely autobiographical and while considered Charlotte Bronte's most important work, it is not as popular as her "Jane Eyre." The length and depressing mood of "Villette," she believes is responsible for its lack of popularity.

The novel is the story of an English girl teaching in Brussels. The character of Prof. Paul Emanuel is considered to be one of the most outstanding male characters ever drawn by a woman writer.

The speaker, in describing the author, said that as one of six children of a minister of Calvinist precepts, her childhood in the Yorkshire parsonage was lonely and austere.

Cassels Married 69 Years

MR. AND MRS. HARVEY E. CASSEL

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Elwood Cassel, 781 Third Ave., will observe their 69th wedding anniversary quietly on Friday and at the same time be reminded that Mr. Cassel will have his 96th birthday anniversary on Jan. 22.

Mr. Cassel is recuperating from a recent indisposition and for that reason the day will be a quiet one. Mrs. Cassel will be 90 years of age on April 5. She was born near Springfield, Ohio.

Believed to have the longest record for marital felicity in Upland, the Cassels met at a church revival meeting a year before their marriage, near Springfield, Ohio.

They lived on a farm near Dayton, Ohio, and came to Upland from that state 25 years ago. They have lived ever since in their present home.

In Upland, Mr. Cassel worked as a house painter and for 11 years, before his retirement at 76 years of age, he was night watchman for Stewart Packing Co.

Ordained a deacon in the Brethren in Christ church in 1895 he was active in the Upland church in that capacity for 25 years, before his retirement. Mrs. Cassel shared in his church work as a Sunday school teacher and member of the church choir.

The couple have three daughters and five grandchildren. Miss Alma Cassel, who teaches at Upland college, lives with her parents. Their other daughters are Mrs. Wm. M. (Lela) Common, of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada and Mrs. Glen (Miriam) Byer, Falls City, Kansas. The Commons' have one son, Dennis. The Byers' children are, Jo-Ann, a missionary; Dale, serving with the U.S. Army in Paris, France; Elaine and Shirley, at home.

Mmes. Thompson, Shelton In Red Hill Pitcher Tie

Mrs. Mitchell Thompson and Mrs. O. H. Shelton plan today to play off the tie in last week's Red Hill Pitcher golf competition among the women golfers, when the two tied with net scores of 72.

Today's playoff will decide the January pitcher winner. Mrs. Thompson tied with Mrs. Andrew Johnson in the December pitcher competition but a playoff gave the month's win to Mrs. Johnson with a 75.

The playoff will see two of the top Red Hill women golfers matched. Mrs. Thompson has twice won the Red Hill women's championship, while Mrs. Shelton, a relative newcomer to the ranks of the women golfers, was the three-time winner of last year's Red Hill bowl play, retaining permanent possession of the silver trophy. Mrs. Johnson is chairman of the women golfers at the country club.

Services Tuesday morning in the chapel of Sawtell Military cemetery, were held for Dillon Heitzenreder, 61, of 1150 Washington Blvd., who died Jan. 9 at the Long Beach Naval hospital after a long illness. He is survived by his wife, Laura, and a host of family members.

The decedent came to Upland from his native Illinois at the age of six years. He served with the U. S. Navy during World War I and was aboard the ill-fated USS San Diego.

Interment was made in Sawtell Military cemetery. Other than the widow, survivors are four aunts, Mrs. Harry Stauffer, 1090 Washington Blvd., and Mrs. James Hinshaw, 1025 Washington Blvd.; Mrs. Arthur Cosner of Los Angeles and Mrs. Benjamin Ogle of Carlsbad; and two nephews, Franklin and Tommy Heitzenreder of Los Angeles.

NO BIDS MADE

No bids were received for the old Cucamonga school building at the scheduled auction last week and so the Cucamonga school district continues to own the structure and its five acre campus.

The property had been appraised at $65,000 and bids would have been for at least that amount. Ralph Bullock, principal, said it is likely the sale of the structure will again be legally advertised this spring and a new auction date set.

Kiwanis Leaders At Installation

Nicholson Debunking A Highlight

Alexander McLeish is president of Upland Kiwanis club for 1958, having been installed Monday night at a dinner meeting attended by more than 100 Kiwanians and wives. Al Holmer of Ontario, past lieutenant governor of Division 15, was installing officer. Wm. Straub of Monrovia, present lieutenant governor, and Dr. Norman Abbott of Upland, past division lieutenant governor and past governor of the California-Nevada-Hawaii district, were featured speakers.

Debunking of the outgoing Upland president, John H. Nicholson, was also a program highlight when a "This Is Your Life" program was presented with Jack Mischler and Geo. Brannan serving as emcese.

Guests appearing on the program included Mrs. Nicholson and the honored man's children, Nancy and Dan; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nicholson; his sister, Mrs. Thos. (Mildred) Kilfoil and son Thos.; Mayor and Mrs. Donald C. Carr, Dist. Supt. of Schools Harold W. Cook, Mrs. Helen (Taylor) Miller, Max Hawkins and Cal Shores.

Bid Awarded For Demolition Of Bldg. Skeleton

Upland Elementary school district trustees Tuesday night awarded a contract in the amount of $55.50 to Carl H. Williams, 624 N. Third Ave., for the demolition and recovery of a building frame-work on the rear of school district proper on N. Third Ave.

The building skeleton was raised many years ago and never completed. The school district recently purchased the property. Mr. Williams submitted the only bid.

Fire Districts Reorganize Due To New Laws

Alta Loma Fire Protection district is today reorganized under the new state laws of the 1957 assembly session, and Cucamonga Fire Protection district is in the process of reorganizing under the new laws.

Gene Billings, secretary of the Alta Loma district, reports the local districts are two of three self-governing fire protection districts of this county formed under the Act of 1881. As this legislation was found to have "too many loopholes," it was rewritten by the 1957 assembly, Mr. Billings reports.

Under the new legislation, such districts have municipal-type governments but for fire protection only. March 1 is the deadline for such districts to process their applications for reorganization.

Alta Loma district was one of the first to receive its certificate of existence from the Secretary of State, recognizing its reorganization under the new laws. Mr. Billings said the action was effective Jan. 6.

Raiders Entering League Play Of Casaba Season

Upland Junior High Raiders have completed their pre-season warmups for the current casaba season with both the "A" and "B" teams opening their San Gabriel Valley league slates this week against Azusa. Both teams are looking for their first victory after several early game disappointments.

Coach George Schilens will probably start with Steve Snyder, Richard Farmer, John Henderson, Gary Omotoy and Richard Masluk with Jim Thomas, Benji Lara, Bruce Funk, Dee Howell, Truman Allen, Clark Corpe, Joel Kay, Jim Serrao and Robert Lucero also to see action.

The "A" team is woefully lacking in experience with only Farmer and Omotoy up from last season's "B" five. The remainder of Coach Schilens' crew is without team experience.

The "B" team followed two early season losses by lop-sided scores with a thriller against Cucamonga. The Junior Raiders led with ten seconds remaining and Tony Santos dropped in a lay-up to give the visitors a 21-20 edge, which stood for the victory. Dave Sifuentes was again high man for the Uplanders with eight points, followed by Benny Showalter with six.

The League schedules for the teams are:

JVs Win Ninth Game; Anaheim Next Opponent

With a nine-game win streak to their credit, Upland High school JV basketeers rest for a week before going to Anaheim for an afternoon game Jan. 23. On Monday, Coach Gus Rischer's quint dropped El Monte, 37-29, for their ninth victory.

Larry Crawford was missing from the game but Jim Sutherby, with eight points led the scoring attack for Upland. Paul Wood and Don Maxwell also performed well off the board. Walt Wood, a substitute, scored six counters, and Sub. Paul Edwards counted three.

Cagers Tripped 69-65 In 1st League Tilt

By DAVE CORLET

Highlander varsity cagers played their first Tri-County league game of the season against the Corona Panthers last Friday night and were defeated 69-65.

The tilt was a nip and tuck battle all the way, with Corona managing a two point lead through most of the fourth quarter. Upland tied the score in the final minutes at 63 and 65 points but taking the breaks, Corona hastened into a four-point lead in the final seconds.

Both teams were masters of the fast break in the thriller, and complete team play was at its best.

"We sure hated to lose this game," says Coach Jerry Kehr, "however, the boys played the very best game of the season and I think that any one who saw the game will agree with me."

The Corona coach feels that this game was the best his team has ever done.

Tom Boswell's 21 points can't compare with little Bobby Longager's (5'6") 35 points racked up in this game for Corona. Longager's highest previous scoring spree was for 21 points, which he made a few weeks ago.

Upland made 35 per cent of the shots from the floor and 55 per cent from the free throw line.

Coach Kehr believes that if the Varsity plays as well as they did last Friday night, Upland will win every game that they play from now to the end of the season.

The Highlanders host La Jolla this Friday night. The "JV" team will open the session at 7 p.m. and the Varsity will follow at 8:30.

In the B game with Corona, Upland kept the win at home with a 51-44 victory.

AZUSA IN 65-58 HOOP VICTORY

Taking their second win from the Upland varsity five, Azusa was ahead 65-58 at the final gun Tuesday, after scoring 41 points in the first half. The winners held a considerable height advantage over the Upland team.

In the second half of the non-league game, Upland reserves outscored the winners, with Jerry Thompson dropping in 11 points and John Grace and Jim Burton each scored eight for the Highlanders.

Zimmerman Takes Second Orchid Society Prize

Albert W. Zimmerman, 587 N. Campus Ave., for the second consecutive time was winner of the exhibitor's prize for the best orchids at the monthly meeting of Riverside-San Bernardino counties Orchid society held Thursday evening in Slovene hall, Fontana.

Mr. Zimmerman took his second exhibitor's prize for a large white orchid displayed. Speaker for the evening was Frank Fordyce, who spoke on Cymbidiums.

The group meets the second Thursday of each month, 8 p.m., in Slovene hall. The next meeting is Feb. 13.

Judge Accepts Heart Post

Jesse M. Curtis, judge of the San Bernardino Court, has accepted the chairmanship of the 1958 County Heart Fund drive, Dr. Paul E. Swanson, president of the County Heart Assn., announced this week. He also stated the fund drive will be held in February, which is national Heart month.

Funds from the drive are used in research, professional and public education and in rehabilitation of heart victims.

The most valuable fixture in the reception office is a pretty receptionist.

Scene In Fast-Paced Game

Possession of the ball was an all-important factor at this moment in the Friday night game here with the Highlanders hosting the Corona quint. Tom Boswell and Dave Grace jump for the ball after an Upland scoring attempt failed, and at right, Corona's Porter (34) also tries for possession of the ball. The win fell to Corona, 59-55, after the lead was exchanged continually throughout the fast paced thriller.

AGAINST CITY DAMAGE CLAIMS

Two claims for damages resulting from personal injuries have been brought against the City of Upland and referred by the city council to City Attorney Henry Busch and the insurance carrier.

Evelyn Angel, 401 W. Glenoaks, Apt. 10, Glendale, is asking $1,337.99 and Dorothy King Nipper, 25340 35th St., San Bernardino, is asking $1,100 damages as a result of injuries sustained when a falling limb from a Euclid Ave. parkway tree struck the car in which they were riding.

The accident occurred near the intersection of Euclid Ave and Foothill Blvd. some time ago, while they were waiting for a signal light to change.

Plane Crash Report Still Mystery

Reports of a plane crash on the high slopes of Cucamonga ridge between Cucamonga and Ontario peaks late yesterday had resulted in nothing but negative reports by the West End sub-station on San Bernardino county sheriff's office, after two days of searching.

The wreck was reported Monday afternoon to the substation by an unidentified woman, soon after an explosive-type noise was heard and felt in Upland.

By Wednesday afternoon, the sheriff's men were concluding there was no crash. However, a report that a wreckage had been sighted from the air was being checked out. The reported wreckage was presumed to be that of the plane which crashed in the same area about three months and has not been reached for removal or burial. At that time a helicopter removed the pilot to safety.

Reports of smoke from the alleged crash area persisted throughout Tuesday but none were received by the sheriff's sub-station Wednesday.

Cleared Of Drunk Driving Charge

Jury Finds Oppenshaw "Not Guilty" In Second Trial

In one of the infrequent jury trials conducted in Upland Justice court, Mac Leon Oppenshaw, 30, of 1335 W. Second St., Pomona, was found not guilty of the charge of drunk driving Thursday night by an Upland jury of six men and six women.

In finding the defendant not guilty, the jury reversed a decision of an earlier trial. Mr. Oppenshaw was arrested following a traffic accident, in which he was injured, at Foothill Blvd. and Mountain Ave. He immediately pleaded not guilty to the drunk driving charge and demanded a trial by jury.

On Oct. 31, a jury in the Upland justice court with Judge Fred H. Jacobs presidng, found the defendant guilty of the charge. Appealing this decision, Mr. Oppenshaw was granted a new trial on a technicality. Judge Jacobs then disqualified himself to preside at the new trial and Judge Lawrence E. Madsen of Colton conducted the second trial, which opened Jan. 2 but was continued to Jan. 9 due to the illness of Dep. District Atty. Ralph Prince, prosecutor for the case.

During the trial, the defendant had been free on $158 bail. The not guilty verdict was returned by the jury at 10 p.m.

Water Study Group Reports On Need For 40 Years

Report of the city's capital improvements committee on water has been received by the city council, with Chairman R. G. Manley, retired city manager, making the presentation at a recent council meeting.

Mr. Manley told the councilmen his committee found that present city water storage facilities were adequate to serve the growing population until the period 1960-1970 when more facilities must be added.

The report covers needs of the city in water storage, water requirements, pipe line requirements and water rate increases through the year 1990.

Present Consumption

At present, 3,125,000 gallons of water is consumed per day by a population of approximately 13,000 residents, with a peak day consumption of 9,360,000 gallons, the report shows. Increases necessary for the coming years were projected as follows by the committee:

In 1960, a population of 16,230 persons will consume an average of 4,187,340 gallons of water per day with a peak of 12,562,020 gallons. In 1970, the water consumption for an average day will have jumped to 8,693,425 gallons by 29,075 persons, and a peak day consumption of 26,030,275 gallons.

57,000 Population

By 1980, with a population estimated at 45,000 by the committee, the water consumption for an average day would be 14,940,000 with a peak day consumption of 44,820,000. In 1990, the committee estimates the population at 57,00 with an average daily water consumption of 19,950,000 and a peak day consumption of 59,850,000.

In estimating the population growth of the city, the committee was more conservative which saw 60,000 people here by 1975. In the past year or more, however, growth forecasts have foreseen this maximum population for Upland in the next 40 years, rather than in 20 years.

Storage Facilities

Reservoir storage requirements for city water were estimated by the committee, starting with today's facilities for storing 6,957,000 gallons of water. The report foresees a need of greatly expanded storage facilities by 1970, when the water storage will be more than doubled.

Regarding city water mains, Mr. Manley told the councilmen his committee's report favored continuing all north-south lines with intersections, avoiding dead-ends in order to eliminate some larger lines at future dates. He said new lines recommended will also depend on how future subdivisions are planned and laid out with water lines.

Seek Water Sources

The study group also urged that the city not rely solely on the Chino Basin as a water source, as reports over many years show there is a continuing increase in the overdraft of this basin, but should seek other water sources.

Working with Mr. Manley for the past year on the water committee were Earl E. Hawthorne, vice chairman; Harold Wilder, secretary; R. V. Ward, John Andreas, John Nicholson, Abner Haldeman, Dan Maher, Ralph Hunt, A. H. Hays and Robt. R. Sherwood. Purpose of the committee, according to "Upland's Forward Look" plan was to develop a plan to produce, store and deliver domestic water to the entire city as it grows.

The general committee was divided into three sub-committees, one to study water rates of neighboring cities, one to study the present financial setup of the water dept. with a view toward the purchase of water stock and the expansion of facilities, and a third to study the area growth in relation to its affect on the needs of the city water system.

street, panic strikes, for we always wonder if we're going the wrong way. But in this case, it was not us. We are not criticizing anyone for this car going the wrong way on a one-way drive, for the drive doubtlessly is little used during class hours. Perhaps it is a good training course for the students and is practical to use for the driver classes. But we sure panicked for a second on seeing that car coming toward us. Which probably only indicates a guilt complex, for the other day we turned into a one-way street in Riverside, and we were going the wrong way!

Postal Regulations Topic For Top Trio

Postmaster Roy A. Ray, seated right, goes through a book of postal regulations with Chas. Welch, left, newly appointed "superintendent of mails" in the Upland Post office. He will relieve Asst. Postmaster John James, standing center, of mail supervisory duties so the latter can devote more time to financial and personnel matters. Growth in population, mail volume and post office personnel qualified the Upland post office for the new supervisory position.

Chas. Welch Fills New Postal Position, Supt. Of Mails

Chas. Welch is today the first man to hold the position, "superintendent of mails", in the Upland Post Office, the new position have been approved by the U.S. Postal Dept. and instituted in the local post office last week.

Postmaster Roy A. Ray said the addition of the new supervisory position in the Upland post office was approved on the basis of the number of employes, postal receipts and the population served. The position was requested by Postmaster Ray, who said it was "made necessary by the amount of work due to growth."

Twenty-two full-time employes are on the staff of the local post office, including Mr. Ray and Asst. Postmaster John James. For the annual holiday season, this number is doubled. During the past year, two full-time men have been added to the postal staff here.

Here Eleven Years

Supt. of Mails Welch, with the local post office for the past 11 years, now has supervisory duties over dispatching and incoming mails, relieving Mr. James to devote more time to finance and personnel.

Originally from Beebe, Ark., where he was a Beebe Jr. Agriculture college student of John Baumgartner, now also of Upland, Mr. Welch left college to enter military service. Assigned to an anti-aircraft unit of the army attached to the 13th Air Force, Mr. Welch served at Ontario International airport for a while and at Camp Haan. While in the service he was married in 1943 to the former Wanda Smith of Pocahontas, Ark., and their first residence was Ontario. They decided then that this area would be their post-war home.

South Pacific Action

Of his three years in the army, two years were spent in the South Pacific participating in a number of historic landings. He sustained an arm wound on Wadke Is. during the New Guinea landings, and later received several campaign ribbons and stars. Discharged in Jan., 1946, he and Mrs. Welch returned to this area and in March, 1946, began work with the Upalnd Post office as substitute clerk-carrier. During his first day on the job, Mr. Welch saw a letert addressed to a John Baumgartner, so that evening he went calling. To his elation, the Mr. Baumgartner in Upland was his former college professor and founder of Beebe Jr. Agricultural college.

Three Daughters

During the 11 years he has been with Upland post office, Mr. Welch saw a letter admail route and has therefor come in contact with most families here. In recent times he has worked on city distribution and the parcel post window in the post office.

The Welches are now parents of three daughters, Charlene, 9; Sharon Ann, 5, and Melanie, 3. They reside at 1064 E. "I" St. in Ontario and are active members of First Baptist Church of Upland. Mr. Welch has served as church treasurer for the past three years and previously served as church organist.

He has been in the navy four years. During the cruise, the destroyer participated in gunnery practices, anti-submarine operations and as escort for air craft carriers.

Establishment of a shooting range in the Cucamonga wash, north of Hillside Rd., north of Alta Loma, has been approved by the San Bernardino county planning commission.

Happiness Delivered 1400 Children

SANTA INC. SEEKS TOYS, KNITTERS AS WORK BEGINS FOR 1958 PROJECT

Three hundred and fifty families, including 1,400 children, were reassured there is a Santa Claus this past yuletide by Santa Claus, Inc., which aided families in Upland, Monte Vista, Ontario and Cucamonga in giving the children a merry Christmas.

With this tremendous task successfully accomplished a second year, volunteer workers and the board of Santa, Inc., are already working toward bringing yuletide happiness into as many or more area homes in 1958.

Fifty or more organizations were again responsible for a share of the work during 1957, and will be aiding with work on toys, dolls and other projects for Christmas 1958. Individuals and groups wishing to work on toys, especially wheeled and mechanical toys are asked by Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Majors, co-chairmen, to contact them at YUkon 6-35409 to arrange for donating time and effort.

Mrs. Majors this week also asked that area residents save toys for the Santa, Inc., toy drive to be conducted in the immediate future. Notices regarding the toy drive will be sent home, through the schools, with school students.

Toy Drive Slated

Persons wishing to donate toys can now leave them at the Santa, Inc., warehouse on Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., or leave them with Upland Fire Dept. at the city fire house adjacent to the city hall. The Santa, Inc., warehouse is located on the west side of Euclid Ave. immediately north of the Santa Fe railroad tracks. It is provided rent free by Curci and Turner of Pomona, owners.

Mrs. Majors also issued a plea for volunteer knitters to start sweater knitting projects to provide warm sweaters for one to four-year-old children of the area. Mrs. L. D. Elliott, knitting chairman for the third consecutive year, reports 30 sweaters knitted and distributed this past Christmas.

Need 125 Sweaters

"Eighty sweaters was a wonderful response from our volunteer knitters, Mrs. Elliott said, "But there were not enough sweaters even then to fill the need. We are setting a goal of 125 sweaters for 1958 in order to provide a sweater for every small child in need."

Yarn and simple instructions for the sweaters are furnished the volunteer knitters and Mrs. Elliott plans to have enough yard available by Feb. 1 to start the projects. Funds to purchase the yarn has been raised in the past by food sales and other money-raising projects. If funds available are not sufficient for 1958, additional fund raising events will be scheduled.

By mid-February, Mrs. Majors also plans to have dolls ready for volunteer workers to dress.

The co-chairman of the tremendous project with a heart reports that all money donated for the 1957 project went directly for the 1,400 children's Christmas, with the exception of a small amount for operating expenses, i.e. lights and telephone costs. The annual audit of the Santa Claus, Inc., books will be held before spring.

Miles Standish was married twice. His first wife, Rose, died during the first winter in America; his second wife was Barbara, by whom he had six children.

Wm. Youngs Promoted

Wm. Youngs, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Youngs, 8192 Tapia Via, has returned to Fort Hood, Texas, where he is in service with the U.S. Army medical corps. On his return from Christmas leave with his parents, he learned that he has had a promotion and is now a specialist third class. Before Christmas he returned from Germany.

On his separation in June he plans to return to college to study automotive engineering.

His brother, S/3c Ronald Youngs, who is still serving in Germany, will receive his discharge from the army in April, when he will return to this area with his wife. Ronald Youngs also plans to continue his education, after his discharge.

Republican Outlook Dark

It looks bad for the Republicans in this election year. If it isn't going to be "bad" the trend must be changed at the outset. The national box score, as compiled by one observer, indicates that since 1953, the Republicans have lost 13 governorships and gained but two. The Democrats have made a net gain of control of eight additional state legislative lower houses and a net gain of control of eight state "upper" houses.

The situation in Washington is about the same. Today, the division in the U. S. senate is 50 Democrats and 46 Republicans. Of 96 senate seats, 32 will be at stake in the 1958 elections. Of these 32 seats, 20 are held by Republicans and 12 by Democrats. Six of the Democratic senate seats are in the deep south or in border states where election of a Republican is socially unacceptable.

On the Republican side, of the 20 Senators up for reelection, five are retiring. In order to gain an even tie this year, the Republicans have to return candidates in all 20 Senatorial districts they now hold, finding five replacements for current Senators and then take at least two Senate seats away from the Democrats.

These are some of the factors which go to make up the odds favoring the Democrats in the 1958 elections. The factors are very formidable.

This Will Keep 'Em Busy

The subject of doing something for our senior citizens is discussed in Upland from time to time.

A friend has supplied us with these suggestions for retired people and others to keep busy. For those who are interested, take your pick and keep busy;

Keep a scrapbook. Work crossword puzzles. Practice penmanship. Read the Psalms aloud. Memorize a short poem. Do everything the best you can. Cultivate peace of mind. Write a letter of praise. Make lists of inspiring words. Safeguard your eyes. Radiate good will. Think constructively. Practice patience. Avoid extremes. Live courageously.

Thank God for life. Be an optimist. Look for the good. Don't complain. Vary your interests. Send a helpful book to someone. Ignore the weather. Smile serenely. Practice scribbling. Modulate your voice. Banish worry. Watch your step. Disregard the clock. Avoid resentment.

Eat plain food. Masticate thoroughly. Breathe rhythmically. Exercise judiciously. Relax completely. Keep mind and body clean. Act deliberately. Yield graciously. Maintain erect posture. Shun stimulants. Rest periodically. Control your emotions. Simplify everything. Use common sense. Plan for sound sleep.

Cultivate awareness. Favor quietness. Give generously. Accept the inevitable. Rule your moods. Conserve your energy. Practice economy. Aspire nobly. Fortify your faith. Affirm your health. Correct your mistakes. Apply the Golden Rule. Read the Proverbs daily. Emulate Christ. Pray fervently to God.

Know Before You Buy

"I bought the property and I didn't realize I couldn't erect a duplex on it until I went to get my building permit."

This statement was expressed the other day in the office of tthe San Bernardino county planning commission.

Hanging on a wall to the right of the visitor, who is quoted here, was a well-illustrated suggestion he should have read some time ago. "Investigate before you buy," said the wall-card. Other advice was given to warn prospective buyers that zoning laws are on the records and that it is better to find out about their resrictions before a purchase, instead of later.

The same situation experienced by the visitor in San Bernardino has also been the lot of visitors to the Upland city engineering and building departments. If all prospective buyers had learned in advance instead of later, these experiences would not be recorded.

In general, zoning and building restrictions are in effect to protect the general public and to guide the growth of a community. Some areas, in good planning, are saved for large lots and single family dwellings. In other areas, the lots are smaller. In some zones, multiple family dwellings and rear houses are permitted. Industry and business are permitted in some locations and banned in others.

What the sign said is very true. Find out before you buy; not afterwards.

Sharps and Flats

By Chuck Barlow

This nation is greatly concerned about the growth of juvenile crime. Many magazine articles have appeared on the subject and voluminous reports have been submitted by crime agency investigators.

There isn't much doubt in my mind what lies behind juvenile crime. What kids learn at home has a terrific bearing on their everyday and later life.

How honest are parents? If parents are dishonest why expect much more from the child whose early training is along dishonest lines.

Not all parents are dishonest, not by a long way. The majority are honest to a high degree. But how strong the dishonesty strain runs is evidenced in a recent publicity release by a major food chain.

The theft of market carts isn't by juveniles. And the theft of these carts isn't for any gain by the thief. Not many persons have use for a market cart. It is a theft prompted by the age old "get something for nothing" attitude that is foremost in the thinking of too many people today.

This information astounded me so it may give you an idea of what our juveniles are up against when trying to be honest and law abiding.

"Shopping carts, disappearing at a rate of more than 1,000 each week, last year cost food market owners $1,671,750 in four Southern California counties, an industry spokesman announced.

"In many cases, cart losses cost more than bad checks, burglaries and robberies combined," he added.

"A survey covering 534 markets in Los Angeles, Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino shows losses of 22,290 carts last year. Since these stores account for 40% of food sales in the area, total losses are estimated at 55,725.

"Grocers say most of the carts are pushed away by customers who under-estimate the cost of the carts and over-estimate the merchant's profit on their business. "These baskets cost us $32 each; that's equal to our net profit on the food for two large families for a year," claimed one official.

"Cart-napping is a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment," he continued, 'But we don't want to jail our customers. We'd rather appeal to their sense of honesty and fair play.

"What's more, every one of our customers helps pay for the loss in higher prices. I would cut prices tomorrow on dozens of items if I could be sure no more of my carts would get 'lost'."

"Where do the carts go? California Food and Drug Special Agents association members, who act as store detectives for their various companies, report: "Some are picked up off the street and 'fenced' to unwary or unethical merchants. Some hold junk in garages.

"Some are used as laundry carts until they rust up a batch of clothes and then wind up in the trash. Some are torn apart by the kids. Even the carts that come back are costly as they are often damaged. And, for every cart that's in somebody's back yard, the store has to buy an extra one to keep in the store."

"Some California cities have passed special ordinances to control what one citizen called, "the public nuisance ,the traffic hazard, the disgrace to the moral character of our city that abandoned shopping carts represent."

"Market officials emphasized that customers pay for the lost carts. 'You've heard of passing the savings on to the customer—well, we're passing the losses on, too!' cracked one.

"Special agents say the name of the owner is stamped into the metal frame of the carts and declared that "Anyone who spots an abandoned cart and notifies the owner is doing a real public service."

TIME PASSES

15 Years Ago

There were 455 people living on San Antonio heights included in the 154 families making their homes there. Included were many old time residents but the survey by The Upland News noted many newcomers. Only one home was unoccupied. Dr. Chas. B. Taylor, affectionately referred to as "Mayor of San Antonio Heights," was president of the community league, which was credited with developing an outstanding community spirit.

Some youthful Uplander, armed with a bee-bee gun and riding a bicycle caused almost an entire black-out in the southern section of the city by shooting out 37 street lights.

Police were looking for the culprit. Throughout the city citizens were complaining about youthful shooters who were potting at birds and peppering homes.

R. G. Manley, E. Tweed Stone and Eugene L. Mueller, Upland police chief, were completing a course at the war department school of defense at Occidental college, Eagle Rock. Chief Mueller had been elected president of the class.

Miss Jessie Brown, principal of Upland Elementary school, revealed that food shortages caused a boom in service at the school cafeteria where workers were having to test their ingenuity due to difficulty in obtaniing necessary foods. Partly the increased patronage of students was due to the growing number of mothers going into war work.

25 Years Ago

A wind storm caused great damage, including the death of one railway worker and serious injury to a carpenter. Ray Koontz, Los Angeles fireman, trapped in the cab of the engine when the train turned over after hitting drifting sand on the track in Etiwanda, died of burns. Wesley Courtney, also of Los Angeles, a second railway worker also trapped was severely scalded.

Homer Benson of Camp Baldy was the victim of a strange accident. In the attic of a garage he was endeavoring to repair a roof. He was holding a piece of sheet metal when a gust of wind lifted him and the metal through the roof. He fell, cracking several vertebrae.

There was considerable loss to citrus growers due to fruit being blown from trees. Many roofs were damaged and students got a break when drifted sand on highways made to impossible for cars to get through.

Newman Draper and Margaret Hill were contesting the office of president of the Upland Junior Hi student body. Elmer Mathews was setting out 10 acres of lemons on his property at Twenty-second St. and Mountain Ave.

Record Auto Registration Renewals

Fastest auto registration renewal in the history of the State Department of Motor Vehicles is in the making today, as the 1958 registration enters its third week.

L. Roy Stokes of the Ontario office, DMV, reported a record volume for the first seven days of the renewal period, which started Jan. 2, with 2100 registrations ahead of the same period in 1957.

"Motorists have learned from past experience that to put off renewing the registration on their cars can only lead to the discomfort of standing in line as the renewal deadline approaches," observed State Motor Vehicles Director Paul Mason.

Last year, Mason said, thousands of vehicle owners delayed beyond the statutory Feb. 4 deadline, with the result that they were faced with the necessity of paying heavy penalties.

The motor vehicles director stressed once again these cardinal rules for trouble-free registration:

1—Do not separate the two parts of the fee statement card received in the mail by owners of all previously registered vehicles.

2—Pay only the 1958 fees, ignoring the boxed figure for 1959 fees which appears on the stub of the fee statement card for future reference only.

3—The most convenient method of renewing is to visit the nearest DMV station, 1054 E. Fourth St., Ontario, in person. The owner then receives the green 1958 sticker for the rear license plate, with the new registration card for the steering post.

At the end of the rainbow

Any money you find at the end of the rainbow is money you have saved and sent ahead.

Folks you see enjoying safety and comfort and freedom from fear, are simply folks who had the foresight to begin saving money several years ago.

You too, can do this "rainbow's end" trick by putting a little money every week or every month — regularly — in Euclid Savings & Loan at Ontario — a strictly local savings institution with a fine 30-year record of safety, and with assets of over $10 million.

Here, too, you'll get good interest, currently 4% per year, and insurance by an agency of the United States Government.

Each savings account insured up to $10,000 by an agency of the U. S. Government.

From The MAILBOX

Dear Editor,

It seems that again Upland must be the factor which conserves values in this part of our county. It was with amazement and disappointment that I learned that Ontario was sacrificing Euclid Avenue's pepper trees. The same situation will undoubtedly face Upland. I hope that your splendid paper will lend its journalistic skill toward preventing such an unfortunate decision for Upland.

May I suggest that if pepper trees cannot tolerate the water needed to maintain a lawn, that we abandon the lawn? Pepper tree leaves, as they fall, make a smooth velvety brown covering for the ground that is a very tidy, pleasant background for the green of the trees. Euclid Avenue would still be outstanding and beautiful. The charms that is the unique quality of an avenue of pepper trees would be preserved.

Dear Editor:

In your Dec. 19-'57 edition I noted a very interesting article a "Lonesome Club Project" for Upland during 1958.

I do hope there will be enough interest manifested for this very worthwhile project to be adopted.

I am a shut-in and at times would appreciate having some one call on me, especially some one who may be interested in Christian fellowship. Would be glad to aid anyone in their letter writing or interest then in some very worthwhile line of work. I cannot follow, as I have in the past few years. Am 84 yrs old. Hope this project goes forward in behalf of those who need it more than I do.

I enjoy reading Upland News very much especially Dr. Latimers column and Chuck Barlow's. May all your good plans come thru succesfully this brand New Year.

Should anyone care to phone me? Ph. 21-942.

Yours, Dr. Emma Stone

Dr. James V. Latimer — This Life We Live

A DEEP CONCERN:

It is about learning how to live. We can go on existing day by day with little effort, but to rise above obstacles and difficulties and to face the coming days with courage requires judgment and balance. We really want to live, to do and to be the finest possible, because such personalieti command. They make contributions that are worthwhile. We seek then the technique of personal power in mind and heart. To live is one thing, but to live buoyantly is another.

We ought to keep our sousl on top.

In the pressure of our daily tasks we ought to learn how to rise above worries, to relax in times of tension, and to believe even when we cannot see the results. Many a man faces tasks that stand like a stone wall before him and there seems to be no opening or gate. Only the man of rare insight or faith has the courage to jump over it and go on. He may not see what is beyond, but he goes forward. The poet of former days knew the secret when he wrote, "I do not ask to see the distant scene; one step enough for me."

When Dr. George Washington Carver died a few years ago TIME magazine reported that his age was uncertain. His life and work were not so. It did not matter to me when he was born or under what conditions, because his work was highly important. Work done and lives lived are far more important than the day and place of one's birth. Your age may remain uncertain if your life is not. Where you are from is not so important as to where you are going. May this year find you with your face up, eyes open, and your body braced for the winds we shall face.

It is an ill wind that blows no good.

MOTORISTS QUESTIONED

"Where are you coming from and where are you going?" are questions that are being asked local motorists as they go between Foothill Blvd. and Mission Blvd. in Ontario and between the Los Angeles county line and Bloomington.

Clyde V. Kane, district engineer for the California highway commission, said the interviews from local motorists are being made to determine traffic flows in planning future thoroughfares and highway improvements.

Educational Growth In Upland High School Proved By Tests

Conclusive evidence that educational growth is occurring and getting progressively better at Upland high school was revealed from the results of the Iowa Testing program for educational growth which has recently been received from the central staff in Iowa. Assistant Principal Thos. Glasheen, in charge of the testing program the past three years, reported the findings to the faculty on Jan. 8. Nearly one-half million students in the United States took the test last fall.

Returns show that all grades at Upland high school are above the national median in composite score. Results show outstanding growth in all areas of educational development, Glasheen said. Some of the largest gains were made in the fields of science, mathematical reasoning, reading and social development.

Dramatic Evidence

The most dramatic evidence, he stated, is in the growth and development in the 11th and 12th grade classes which have results of three years of Iowa testing available. In the 1957 test, the present senior class showed that it was in the upper 25 per cent of the nation's schools participating in the test program as it tested at the 76th percentile. This class tested at the 25th percentile, or below 75 per cent of the schools tested in 1955. Results showed a rise to 55th percentile in national placement in 1956.

The Current junor class in 1957 tested at the 83rd percentile in the national placement, showing that it rated in the upper 20 per cent of high schools across the nation who participated in the tests. This class in 1955 tested at the 30th percentile in composite national placement, indicating that the class was below the national 50th percentile. In 1956 it tested at the 55th percentile nationally, above the median, indicating quite a degree of growth in one year.

To Study Results

The present 10th grade tested in 1956 at the 45th percentile. In 1957 it had risen to the 59th percentile in national placement. The present freshman class is at the 51st percentile.

Results of the tests will be studied by the first-period students and their teachers, and profile cards with an explanatory letter will be mailed to the parents of each Upland high school student. Analysis of the test results enables the school to remedy areas of weakness and parents and students are able to understand their areas of strength and weakness.

The profiles show the growth of individual student achievement measured against class average locally and nationally.

The Iowa testing program covers nine important aspects of fundamental development in four major areas: the ability to understand and use the English language; the ability to do pracitcal everyday arithmetical reasoning; knowledge of both natural and social sciences; and the ability to think straight about common problems in these fields.

"The remarkable improvement in the test results," Glasheen said, "Must be attributed to the quality of the class organization and the academic training of the teaching staff. Every member of the faculty and administration has been striving to give the finest education possible to meet the needs of the students."

Suits Filed Against 13 Properties

All 13 persons who own property being sought by the city for parking lots are being named in new condemnation suits, as preparatory measure in obtaining the property.

City Attorney Henry M. Busch said the suits are being recorded while at the same time a new property appraisal is being made. The new appraisal report will be made available to the city council early in February. It is possible the council may offer to buy First and Third Ave. property in accordance with the new appraisal figures. The condemnation suits will have already been ilfed in case court procedure is necessary in arriving at a sale price between the city and the owners.

Prior to obtaining new property appraisals, the city had filed condemnation suits against three of the property owners. In the new plan, all the persons involved in the property purchase are named in the suits.

Mt. Baldy Dream Nears Realization

A special guest at the groundbreaking services for Mt. Baldy Village church on Jan. 5 was Mrs. L. M. (Juanita) Wright, now of Los Angeles but former Mt. Baldy village resident, who taught the first Sunday school class of five boys which led to the organization of the village church.

The groundbreaking saw a dream come true for Mrs. Wright, who recalled how Mr. and Mrs. Pell, former Mt. Baldy residents, came to her in 1950 seven years ago, and asked her to organize a Sunday school class. She did so and her first five boys were Denny Jackson, Tommy Jackson, Wm. (Butch) Peterson, Carl (Tuffy) Peterson and Wayne Young.

First Bible School

That summer, Mrs. Wright launched the first vacation Bible school in the Village, and soon the Sunday school developed into the village church. First members of the adult Sunday school class were Mrs. Herb (Jane) Leffler and Mrs. Roberta Wilson, the latter now of Idlywild.

Mrs. Wright lauded Diane pruitt, now a Chaffey college coed, for being a major factor in the growth of the Sunday school and church. Miss Pruitt began teaching in the Sunday school at the age of 14.

Four Ministers

The church was first served by the Rev. Robt. Mercer, then a student at Calif. Baptist Seminary, Covina, and then by the Rev. Robt. Stultz also a theological student of the same school, who lived at Mt. Baldy for a time. The Rev. Stanley Addison, now deceased, next served the congregation. His widow, a resident of Pilgrim Place, Claremont, was also a special guest for the groundbreaking services.

The Rev. Mr. Owen Alderfer a member of the Upland college teaching staff, has served as pastor for the past two years.

White Tower Drive In Is Re-Opened

Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. Bodewin are the new managers of the White Tower drive-in at 388 E. Foothill Blvd. The establishment was recently renovated and reopened by the new owners who also own the Palm Drive-In at Fontana.

Thirty items are featured on the menu. Self-service is also a feature which is expected to be popular with the patrons.

Erect Sign On Village Church Site

This group of active boys wasted no time in carrying out the request of the Rev. Owen Alderfer that they set in place the rustic sign now marking the building site of Mt. Baldy Village church. The sign was placed at the conclusion of the Jan. 5 groundbreaking ceremonies. The building site is nestled among the trees in the heart of Mt. Baldy, across from Vernon's Mt. Baldy lodge and adjacent to the lodge parking lot on Bear canyon Rd. The structure will be along Swiss Chalet architectural lines. —Upland News Staff Photo

Village Chapel Site Dedicated

Mt. Baldy Village school house was filled to overflowing Sunday, January 5, as the service marking the long-awaited groundbreaking for the church building was held with the Rev. Owen Alderfer presiding.

The minister's meditation was on the topic, "This Is A Church", and the hymn sung was "The Church's One Foundation". Miss Ruby Mansomoto, a student from Japan at Upland college for the past 1½ years, was present "representing world Christianity", and sang a special solo. Mrs. Jas. Paulin provided special piano selections.

"Our Part in Building the Church" was told by Janie Caulfield representing the children of the church; by Kirby Bonds, representing the youth, and by Mrs. Lloyd Brown, representing the adults. Mrs. Brown urged the congregation to "back up our action and work with our prayers", and expressed willingness to hammer nails to see the church building realized. This spirit appeared to represent the attitude of the entire group.

"The Giving for the Church" was told by Mark Alexander prior to the ceremony of presentation of first offerings on building fund committments. He explained that funds are still needed for furnishings and some building refinements.

The service then adjourned to the nearby building site, where a Swiss Chalet type chapel is to be built on land provided by the U. S. Forestry service.

The Rev. Alderfer spoke prior to the groundbreaking, and the Rev. Loyal L. Wirt, former pastor of Etiwanda Congregational church who retired last year from the active ministry, at the age of 94, gave the dedicatory prayer.

Members of the planning session each turned a spade of soil in the symbolic groundbreaking.

An attractive, rustic sign marking the church site was placed by youngsters of the church.

A potluck dinner and fellowship period followed in Mt. Baldy fire hall.

Yesterday Today and Tomorrow

By Gerry McGeer

How well are we prepared in case of disaster?

Without being too complacent it seems to me that we are pretty well prepared. After talking to Howard Paulin, Upland fire chief, who is also local head of civil defense, I feel assured that everything is being done to cope with whatever catastrophies may come our way.

The blackest view is that if there were a direct bomb hit, preparations would be of little help. Chief Paulin believes, though, that this community is in as safe a place as any exisiting.

He thinks we should be a little better prepared for local disasters, such as storms and earthquakes, and more of our safety endeavors should be along those lines.

Actually though during the recent storm when the city services went on 24 hour emergency duty, Uplanders had a pretty good preview of what will happen in case of the real thing.

Civil defense in Upland, as it has been set up, makes use of city services and the skill of Upland's various city departments and personel, from the police down. The control is in the city hall, with technical equipment manned by well trained experts.

How important this is was explained by Chief Paulin, who said that if this community is flooded with refugees it will be important to know that they are not contaminated by fallout.

Men and equipment for this service have been given special training. Though little has been publicized about it they will quickly take over.

In case of a disaster it's possible for the machinery protecting the citizens to go into action as quickly as if it were the fire department responding to a fire alarm.

If like me you could hardly hear the recent alert, be reassured that won't happen if it's the real thing. Mobile sirens will alert the entire community. The authorities have tested the whole area and they know where the mobile sirens will be necessary.

This business of the general public being constantly kept on the alert has its drawbacks. Even in the matter of emergency food cupboards most people become indifferent. This would work a real hardship on families as it is a fact that in case of a bomb all foods in stores and super markets will be frozen. Providence and self preservation both indicate that the food cupboard is a good bet for all families.

We all hope there will never be war but it isn't certain that there won't be. There's nothing very exciting or glamorous about making preparations just in case but the wise people will be ready. Survival for you may depend on having safe food and simple medical supplies in your own home.

Incidentally, this column grew out of a talk with Chief Paulin when I told him that I couldn't hear the siren very clearly inside my home, even when it was quiet there. He wasn't surprised. He said on the long sustained blow the pitch of the siren reaches such a high note that it is inaudible to humans. Dogs can hear it though and he tells people that if their dogs are barking for no apparent reason they should turn on the radio for the Conelrad signal. A reminder to me to get the radio fixed!

Founded Club

Posthumous Honors For Mrs. Adda Manker

Members of Upland Business and Professional Women's club, at the recent dinner meeting in Upland Woman's club house, passed a memorial resolution honoring the late Adda Manker, founder and charter member.

The resolution presented by Mrs. E. Tweed Stone fololwed a tribute by Mrs. Esther Black, who said:

"Tonight may I recall for you some of the early events in Adda's life, so we may understand better why she was a remarkable person.

"Adda was one of eight children in the family of Martin Van Buren Bradford. She came to this colony as a child of eight from Illinois, in 1884.

"Recalling the trip across the continent she told me that the train was jerky and uncomfortable. Each family had to cook its own meals on a big stove in each car. She remembered sitting on a hard seat, sucking a lemon, trying to prevent being train-sick."

Mrs. Black continued that as Adda told her the story she remembered getting off the train in Ontario. There was no Upland then. Her mother saw the wild flowers in bloom and the mountains to the north and said that this was the place she wanted to settle.

Adda's mother must have passed on to her daughter a deep satisfaction and love for this part of the world, a loyalty that was reflected in her life-long service to this community.

Because of the large family Adda was not privileged to continue her education as she wished. Her formal education stopped at the end of the eighth grade.

When she was 18 years old she married F. H. Manker and the young couple established their first home in Upland. Times were hard in 1893 and sometimes Mr. Manker earned only $1.25 a day.

In 1914 Adda, then the mother of five children, became Upland city librarian. Merton Hill, then principal of Chaffey High school, suggested she apply for the job. In preparation she spent two months at library school in Riverside and later two hours a day at Chaffey library.

Mrs. Manker once explained that she knew her children would not get college educations unless she earned some money. She remained Upland librarian for 32 years, and served illustriously. She also organized the San Antonio Library Assn.

Always interested in full citizenship for women she remembered frequently attending political rallies. But women could not vote, nor even march in parades, so she tagged along, walking on the sidewalk.

She served 12 years on the Upland school board. "Her life has been an inspiration", Mrs. Black concluded. "She educated herself. She was able to manage a job and at the same time run a home for five children and her husband."

Miss Florence Andrews, vice president, presided.

Introduced as guests were Miss Vici Matranga and Mrs. Ed Spinner.

All new members present, who joined the club during 1957, were re-introduced by Mrs. Stone, membership chair-

Fund Drive, New Members Big Dance On Oasis Plan

Board of directors of The Oasis, Chaffey district youth center, met recently in the home of Lewayne Dorman, Ontario, with Mike Blaker, chairman, conducting the meeting.

In accordance with California law stipulating that the incorporators of a non-profit organization must submit a loyalty oath, all student board members and advisors were given the oath by Mrs. Florence Estabrook, an Ontario notary public. Those not present will take the oath as arranged.

Tom Cleland, financial drive committee member, outlined the financial campaign to be held Feb. 1 to 14. He showed maps of the district and illustrated a break-down into small areas, each of which will be headed by an adult. A corps of students will do the actual door-to-door canvassing, it was announced.

Tom Cleland, general chairman of the dance Jan. 24, which will feature Les Brown, announced plans for forming special committees. Bob Estabrook, dance co-chairman, reminded board members that all high school age students living in Chaffey district are eligible for membership in the Oasis and must have a membership card in order to attend the dance. Members wishing to bring guests who are ineligible for membership were advised such guest tickets will be $2. College students and those living outside the area come in this category.

Bev Patton, courtesy chairman, reported letters are being mailed to adult boosters who are sponsoring the dance.

Frank Batchelor, membership chairman, announced several stunt ideas for obtaining more members. It was decided that membership fees may be paid $1. down and the balance by Jan. 23. Booths will be set up at high schools to take care of such sales. Frank reported there are 80 salesmen available to those wishing to buy memberships.

It was also decided to hold a kick-off parade and rally through the main thoroughfares of Upland, Ontario and Monte Vista on Feb. 1, 11 a.m. Arrangements for these events are being handled by Julie Thrall, Madeline Patane, Linda Moseley, Stan Swerdloff, Ken Payne and Geo. Davis.

Present at the meeting, in addition to those mentioned and adults were Ken Matlin, Phil Mehas, Mike Blaker Janice Jong, Mike Ensey, Karen Szakaly, Gail Hartig, Dr. and Mrs. Clark Green, Mrs. E. J. Summerhays Jr., Mrs. Walter Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Downing, Gerald Westphal, Dr. Frank Hutchinson, Mrs. H. R. Van Brunt, Mrs. Don DeVore and guests, Bob Brown, Mary Ellen Davidson and David Grossman.

Harmony Carnival Is Feb. 1

Fifth annual Harmony Carnival and Parade of Quartets is scheduled in the Gardiner W. Spring auditorium, Chaffey campus, for Saturday, Feb. 1, starting at 8 p.m. Pomona Valley chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, sponsor the annual musical.

Four of the best quartets in the Far Western district of SPEBSQSA will be included in the program, namely "The Desert Knights" from Phoenix, current Far Western district champions; "The Hightones" from Palo Alto, a comic quartet; "The Keepers of the Keys" from San Fernando, comedy singers, and "The Saints" from Manhattan Beach, a new quartet headed for the district championship.

A new feature of this year's program will be a parade of choruses, presenting The Arcadia Chapter chorus, champions for 1954-55-56; The Whittier Chapter chorus, 1957 second place winners, and the local Pomona Valley Chapter chorus and quartets.

Chaffey Bus Fleet Tops In Safety

Tightened supervision by the State Highway patrol to enforce all school bus safety finds the Chaffey district bus program with high efficiency in mechanical performance and driver training. Delbert Gibson, transportation superintendent, says that all buses are kept at maximum efficiency at all times and are never grounded by inspection.

The Chaffey bus fleet has a six-year record of no pupil injury, no major accident and no accident due to mechanical failure. The bus fleet now has two new White motors which carry 66 passengers each. These are used on the long runs to Upland and Etiwanda.

During the last six years the fleet has gone more than one and one-half million miles. In the year 1957-58, the fleet drove 75,928 miles from Sept. to Dec. 11, 1957. The mileage does not include the cars and carryalls that have been used for transportation of pupils .

The maintenance crew which "catches the trouble before it starts," according to Gibson, includes Mitchell Hopkins, Paul Clarke and Ed Spreng. Robert Cox is the traffic officer, working out of Los Angeles, who inspects the fleet.

The 32 drivers in the department are all college men over half o fthem veterans with an average age of 21 years. These men pass rigid health and driving examinations and have a continuing in-service training with the Bus Safety committee composed of Barry James (chairman), Douglas Engebretson (safety award winner last year), Roger Mollet and Manuel Meza.

Lawson Sells Lemon Grove

Norman S. Lawson's 20-acre lemon grove is today under new ownership.

The citrus grove, developed from bare land into one of the better lemon producers in the area, is now owned by Carroll Robertson of San Bernardino. Mr. Lawson set out the grove 25 years ago, using young trees that had been developed under his care from seeds.

The grove is on the west side of Wilson Ave., one quarter of a mile north of 16th St. The Lawson home at 1705 N. Wilson Ave. was not included in the transaction.

Hensley & Hawthorne, local realtors, handled the transaction.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Hewitt have purchased the Carl Pederson residence at Mt. Baldy and the Uplanders, with their son James, moved there over the weekend from their former address, 495 N. Eighth Ave.

It's An Important Pile Of Boxes

This may look like just a pile of boxes to the observer, but in reality it is much more than that, for the boxes and crates contains all the equipment for a 200-bed emergency hospital to service this area in the event of disaster. The equipment is housed in a specially built warehouse on the grounds of San Antonio Community hospital.

Federal Civil Defense 200 Bed Emergency Hospital Unit Ready In Event Of Disaster

A Federal Civil Defense 200 bed emergency hospital has arrived and has been placed, for storage purposes, in a specially constructed warehouse at San Antonio Community hospital. This ends a year-long wait since the initial processing was done in an effort to obtain such a unit for service in the Western area of San Bernardino county in the event of a disaster.

The unit is designed to be fully equipped to operate as a field type hospital. The weight of the unit totals 24,000 pounds and is broken down into 367 individual packages. The largest single piece of equipment is a 15 KW generator which weighs more than 2,000 pounds.

Main Care Center

This emergency hospital will be the main care center with two smaller type aid stations in support. This will make up most of the equipment serving County Civilian Defense District No. 1. This district serves the communities of Upland, Ontario, Chino, Guasti, Alta Loma, Etwanda, Cucamonga, Mt. Baldy and all the areas surrounding these communities.

The hospital unit is comprised of eight basic functional groups which are: a triage room wards (totaling 200 beds), three operating rooms, a clinical laboratory, a X-ray room, a central supply, a sterializing room and a pharmacy. The generator mentioned above would provide auxiliary power in the event that local electrical supply becomes disrupted. Also included is a 1500 gallon water tank and a pumping unit should there be a need for an emergency water supply.

Local Emergencies

Plans have been worked out whereby a portion of the hospital unit would be used should there be a local emergency situation, such as a train or plane wreck or a factory disaster. In this case, San Antonio Community hospital would be utilized and would be implemented with some units of the emergency hospital unit.

Realizing that there would be patients in the hospital, the plan was worked out with the assumption that the hospital was filled to capacity. In the event of a disaster, and by using these units of the emergency unit, there would be space available for an additional 70 patients located at planned positions around the hospital. With the completion of the Obstetrical wing now under construction, the total additional figure will approach 100 emergency positions.

Practice Drills

Practice drills for setting up the plan as outlined are to be scheduled within a month now that the emergency hospital unit has arrived. These practice runs will be made by all three shifts so that an emergency situation may be properly handled no matter what time of day or night it should arise.

The practice drill should not take more than one hour on the first trial run to set up the entire operation. With continued practice, this time factor should be reduced as each person becomes acquainted with the duties that he or she must perform.

The latest volume of the HISTORY OF UNITED STATES OPERATIONS IN WORLD WAR II by Samuel Eliot Morison is now available. This volume covers the invastion of France and Germany in 1944 and 1945.

Current developments in science are of paramount importance to all of us. To bring us up to a relatively recent date, the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN magazine has reprinted its 1957 articles in chemistry in one easy-to-read volume. This book is a good place to begin your investigation of the scientific world of today.

Another important book that will interest those who keep up with today's world is Robert Payne's new biography of Albert Schweitzer. Few people of our time have so captured the imagination as has Albert Schweitzer in his triple role of musician, theologian, and physician. This book attempts to remove some of the romantic gloss that tends to cover Schweitzer and to show him in some of his frustrations and unbeautiful moods as well as in his victories. It is a book well worth reading for the inspiration it lends to our own working days.

Here's a small book that will inform you on theory and principle even though America's man-made moon fizzled out. It is Lee Beeland and Robert Wells' SPACE SATELLITE, THE STORY OF THE MAN-MADE MOON. The book discusses the techniques involved, the problems to be met in successfully launching a satellite, and what scientists hope to use the moon for. It is basic reading for the non-scientist who just wants to know.

Kitay's OVERCOME ARTHRITIS is a new medically approved practical aid for overcoming the pain and deformity of arthritis. Recommended by Mayo clinic, the book tells you how to rest correctly and how to apply heat, massage, and exercise properly. It discusses drugs and how to detect quack cures. This is a book that will give you authoritative methods to help yourself if you are one of the many who need help.

And here's another book for you when you need it—and all of us do, sometime. It is Edgar Jackson's UNDERSTANDING GRIEF. The book explains the psychology of bereavement and tells how to achieve an adjustment and perhaps avoid physical and mental derangement. It is an integrated study of the psychological, theological, and philosophical aspects of ths si ounivers al subject. Try it: it may help!

Imagination run rampant with all the earmarks of a serious study is Gavin Gibbon's THEY RODE IN SPACE SHIPS. It is an account reported by Daniel Fry and Truman Bethurum whose story Gibbon believes. Want to bring yourself really up-to-date?

And finally, we come to ALFred Metraux' study of EASTER ISLAND, an account of the stone age civilization which has intrigued man ever since it was discovered by the Dutch on Easter Sunday in 1722. Authoritative and readable, this work brings out the latest discoveries of the history of the people of the island, their way of living, their religion, social life and arts and discusses the myths and legends surrounding the origin of the people. Take a run into history; it will revivify you!

These are a few of the new books for you at your library. There are many others. Come in and make your choice.

Total of $11,083,998.45 was received as net income by citrus growers participating last year in the O-K, SanAntonio Fruit Exchange,which is the local sales office of Sunkist Growers, Inc.

This figure was reported by Philip Higginson, new manager, at annual meeting of the group here Friday. This was the first meeting of the combined districts of what was formerly known as the Ontario-Cucamonga Fruit Exchange and the San Antonio Fruit exchange. Mr. Higginson is the new manager succeeding Harry B. Harlow, who recently retired.

Stewart President

In the new organization of the board, Harold S. Stewart was chosen president, succeeding Glen Shepherd of Etiwanda, who recently resigned.

The $11,000,000 figure represents the net citrus income of Sunkist Growers in the district which in general extends from Puente on the west to Rialto on the east. Previously, the "O-K" district did not include much of the Los Angeles county citrus area. Last year's summary of the O-K income totaled $7,431,555.16.

The higher figure this year reprseents a larger number of growers. Higher selling prices for much of the fresh fruit shipments was also an important factor in the increased returns, it was pointed out by Mr. Higginson.

Shipments Listed

Total of 4,883 carloads of fruit were shipped, the varieties being as follows:

Navels and miscellaneous varieties of oranges, 1,348.9 cars; Valencia oranges, 725.2 carloads; grapefruit, 126.8 carloads and lemons, 2,632 carloads.
